together, exchanging nostalgic tidbits over coffee and slices of Partyland's famous pineapple pie. At Nolan smiled at the sound, then nodded at Mama. "I'm going to turn in now. You take good care of him." Its main attraction, aside from being one of the two cafes open this month, was that while we waited for our order we could walk around. We have to have children." She looked back and forth from Lang to Crawford, her face expressing the hunter stepped out of the woods on the very path that Brother Hart usually took, Hinda gave a gasp. "I'm afraid I have to say they're a liability. Lucy will be needing extra food during her pregnancy, and afterward, and it will be an extra mouth to feed. We can't afford the strain on our resources." Lang said nothing, waiting to hear from McKillian. "I suppose you'll be anxious to go to the ship," he said. "You're going to be a tremendous help. You reception area, but I had arranged both desks so we could see each other and talk in normal voices. Rocky Mountain Central Arena. But it's made of a flexible plastic-variant and blowers funnel up heated. And she was right Nolan knew it now. At least they'd be together and that would help see him through. He wouldn't need the bottle any more, and he wouldn't need Nina. He returns to the motorcade, watches as the second shot strikes the President. He freezes time again, misapprehensions on the part of the public. Some people, for instance, pant for clones because they think I shook it "Bert Mallory." More blankets had fallen away, and besides a red as bright as his own hair, he could see a green the color of parrot's feathers, a yellow as pale as Chinese mustard, and a blue brilliant as the sky at eight o'clock in July. Have you ever watched someone asleep under a pile of blankets? You can see the blankets move up and down, up and down with breathing. That's how Amos knew this was a person. "J?ssst," he said, "You colorful but uninteresting person, wake up and talk to me." predilection for gas-pump jockeys, car-wash boys, and parking-lot attendants. I guess it had something. Jain flings her arms wide. Her back impossibly arches. And he did. "Did he have a doctor?" "Though, truly," said Amos, glancing at the ceiling, "I had a friend once named Billy Belay, an old. At long last the Mediator has got both sides to agree to another meeting. It's to take place tomorrow morning. True, it's only been two weeks since we walked off the job, but Debbie and I have already run up a sizable food bill at the Mom & Pop store around the corner, what's left of our savings will just about cover the rent, and I'm smoking Bugler instead of Winstons. And any day now, as Debbie keeps reminding me, we're going to have another mouth to feed. Feeding it doesn't worry me half so much as paying the hospital and doctor bills. "Would you like to come with me," asked Amos, "and get the piece yourself." Due to the recent systems overload error, your test results of August 24 have been erased. Therefore, in accordance with Bylaw 9(c), John Varley for "In the Hall of the Martian Kings". human nature is, what good and bad behavior consists of, what men ought to be, what women ought to be. Advent, Chicago, 1964, p. 83.). one who seemed calm enough to deal with anything. He was a follower, reliable but unimaginative. "A prism!" said Amos. "Isn't that amazing. That's the most amazing thing I ever heard of." Well, Til get them, he insisted, hoping to impress the other voice with the authenticity and vitality of his self-confidence. But the other voice wasn't impressed, and so instead of going straight from Center St. to the nearest speakeasy to celebrate, he took the subway home and spent the evening watching first a fascinating documentary on calcium structures and then Celebrity Circus, with Willy Marx. Willy had four guests: a famous prostitute, a tax accountant who had just left to pick up Amanda. "Damn it," says the tech in my ear. "Level's too low. Bring it up in back." I must have been dreaming. I am performing stupidly, like an amateur. Gently I bring up two stim balance slides. He looked at me sharply, fear creeping back. "Please. Not very tall, about five five or six. Slim, dark curly hair, a real good-looking boy. Looks like a movie star except for his back." "What about contamination?" she asked. "What do you think that sterilization was for before we landed? Do you want to louse up the entire ecological balance of Mars? No one would ever be sure if samples in the future were real Martian plants or mutated Earth stock." "What have you got?" Barry asked. helping me so much. "God, Larry? you're right! It's. "We're in special circumstances, Lucy," Crawford explained. "Sure, I'd be all for it if we were better off. But we can't be sure we can even provide for ourselves, much less a child. I say we can't afford children until we're established." "I see him for your sake," said Hinda. "If he sees me, he does not see you. If he hunts me, he does." "Hold on, honey," Lang said dryly. "If you conceive now, I'll be forced to order you to abort. We have the chemicals for it, you know." "That's what you feel like," said Amos. "Not what you look like. I want to know how I would recognize you if I saw you walking quietly down the street toward me when you were off duty." the froth of electric lights cantilevered over the entrance, Barry could feel the middle of his body turning. The only man speaking was tall, thin, and grey. He wore a grey cape, grey gloves, grey boots, and his hair was grey. His voice sounded to Amos like wind over mouse fur, or sand ground into old velvet. The only thing about him not grey was a large black trunk beside him, high as his shoulder. Several rough and grimy sailors with cutlasses sat at his table? they were so dirty they were no color at all! "Look at it, Matt. Really look at it." So he did, feeling foolish, wondering what the joke was. He noticed a white patch near the top of the largest globe. It was streaked, like a glass marble with swirls of opaque material hi it. It looked very familiar, he realized, with the hair on the back of his neck starting to stand up. Nolan flinched, then halted as the shadow-shape glided forth from the darkened corner beside the. "I suppose, then," said Amos, "I've done well to avoid coming here." And he turned around and left. "Pipe down in there," said the jailor. "I'm trying to sleep." Amos stood blinking as jewels by the thousands fell out on the floor, glittering and gleaming, red, green, and yellow. Not long afterward I left. I didn't want to be hung-over on my first spell of picket duty. It was a cool night, and the stars were thick in the sky. I caught glimpses of the Project as I made my way home through the narrow streets. It dominates the whole city. The whole Plain, for that matter. It had sort of a pale, blurred look in the starlight, the six completed stages blending together, the uncompleted seventh one softly serrated against the night sky. Working on it every day, I've kind of forgot how high it is, how much higher it's going to be when we get back on the job. The highest thing ever, they say. I won't dispute that. It makes a palm tree look like a blade of grass and a man look like an ant. Looking at it tonight, I felt proud to be one of the builders. It was as though I'd built the whole thing myself. That's the way a bricklayer feels sometimes. It's really great I feel sorry for brickmakers. You'd never catch me slogging all day in a mud hole. heating, and for recharging batteries. They managed to convert plastic packing crates into fuel containers. "I love you very much," The Detweiler Soy. "Well, I'm awfully grateful. I mean you scarcely know me." Brother Hart by Jane Yolen. He forced her to the open window, raising his hand threateningly as she spewed and spit her rage, then snatched her garment and clambered over the sill into the darkness beyond. "Yes. He was very pleased, but he wants the man's name." "And thank you. But you didn't answer my question." "Who, senior?" away at its creeping pace, and hurried off to find Song.. "You stay around and nudge some more poems out of me. I'm feeling the wind in my sails, but I need a muse. If you give me twenty good ideas for poems, I'll give yon your endorsement." "All right. But the fact remains that you're the closest thing on Mars to a pilot for the Podkayne. I think you should consider that when you're deciding what we should do." He shut up, afraid to sound like he was pushing her. it in and picked it up. She peered at the underside and laughed in wonder. There was only one way to get it out of my head. "I will not leave." Mama settled herself hi a rocker beside the crib. As Nolan turned to go, she called after him softly. "Remember what I have told you, senior. Naturally, the ordinary "somatic cells" of an adult human body, with their genetic equipment working only in highly specialized ways, cannot divide into a whole organism if left to themselves. Many body cells, such as those of the muscles or nerves, have become so specialized they can't divide at all. Only the sex cells, eggs and sperm, retain the lack of genetic specialization required to produce a new organism under the proper circumstances.. "I wondered from the start why you were along, Crawford." She was pacing slowly
