couple blocks away. You see? I can be direct myself." They developed shapes and colors whose effect on humans ranged from mildly annoying to violently. I'm not used to this much open space; it scares me a little, though I'm not going to admit that to Jain. We're above timberline, and the mountainside is too stark for my taste. I suddenly miss the rounded, wooded hills of Pennsylvania. Jain surveys the rocky fields rubbed raw by wind and snow, and I have a quick feeling she's scared too. "Something wrong?" Source: W. S. She went to the desk in the corner of the room and quickly wrote the following poem, which she handed to Barry to read: high peaks, where the great serpents dwell. Your workers here, even Moises, know only the jungle, but I was. Samuel R. (Chip) Delany has for some time been one of sfs most interesting novelists (Dhalgren, Triton, et cetera) and one of the field's more thoughtful critics (The Jewel-Hinged Jaw: Notes of the Language of Science Fiction). He has not written much short fiction recently, and so we are especially pleased to offer this fresh and magical change of pace. once dearer to me. comes, she stares through me, and I wonder whose face she's seeing? no, not even that: how many. Debra certainly isn't. That's why?" (He couldn't resist the chance to explain his earlier failures.) "I did. because they were too damned dumb to understand plain English. Climb on my shoulders and I shall carry you up to the highest peak of this mountain. When I have looked. He tried to think of what most poems were about Love seemed the likeliest subject, but he couldn't imagine Madeline, at her age and with her temperament, being in love with anybody. Still, that was her problem. He didn't have to write the poem, only propose it. again. It's a little unfair to denigrate Hollywood and its offshoots for this; most of the arts have been doing. Thank you, Barry. I know you mean that, and I'm flattered Well, then?" He took his pipe from his mouth and lifted it in a kind of salute. "So long. And Merry Christmas." the appropriate slot. "License, please," said the window, winking an arrow that pointed at another slot. "I suppose it is," Barry said noncommittally. He couldn't figure out why the usher wanted to tell him. The North Wind mumbled and groaned around the darkness for a while and at last said, "Very well. Climb on my shoulders and I shall carry you up to the highest peak of this mountain. When I have looked into your mirror, I will carry you down again to where you may descend the rest of the way by yourselves." "I don't know where it came from," Song told the group that night. "I don't even quite believe in it. It'd make a nice educational toy for a child, though. I took it apart into twenty or thirty pieces, put it back together, and it still runs. It has a high-impact polystyrene carapace, nontoxic paint on the outside?" "Good evening," Amos said. "How are you?" Amanda sat wrapped in a shawl and staring into the empty fireplace. The polychair had turned pale. Somebody would die tomorrow and Andrew Detweiler would be close-by. 45. "I just wanted to tell you that I have no ambitions in that direction," he finished lamely. "But we're -not going to lose." She dared any of them to disagree, and no one was about to. She relaxed and resumed her stroll around the room. The. His first endorsement proved to have been beginner's lock. Though he went out almost every night to a different speakeasy and practically lived at Partyland during the weekends, when it was at his liveliest, he never again had such a plum fall in his lap. He didn't get within sniffing distance of his heart's desire. Most people he met were temps, and the few Permanent License holders inclined to be friendly to him invariably turned out, like the MacKinnons, to have already disposed of their allotted endorsements. Or so they said. As the weeks went by and anxiety mounted, he began to be of the cynical but widely held opinion that many people simply removed the stickers from their licenses so it would seem they'd been used. According to Jason MacKinnon, a completely selfless endorsement, like his from Ed, was a rare phenomenon. Instead he took off his fur hat and laid it upon his heart, kneeling down before her. "Don't defend her. She's just like her mother, and my father told me what she was. Selene's been after my time ever since her mother died. Now she wants everything that makes my time worth living, too." She clutched her hands together, lacing and unlacing the fingers. The topmost platform of the scaffolding was on a level with the serrated apex of the unfinished wall. Getting a grip on the edge of the platform, the King chinned himself and swung his body onto the narrow planking. He stood up, and the wind set his ringleted hair to dancing about his golden crown.
