"I See You" is the first new Damon Knight story in many years; it was the feature story in FASFs special Damon Knight issue (November 1976). As might be expected, it is a totally fresh piece of work and it shines with quality. Damon says of it: "You may think it is a short story, but it is really a novel on the plan of A for Anything and Hell's Pavement, only much compressed. i. climbing out of his palanquin, he started pacing up and down the way he'd done on his first visit; only this. It seemed as though they were raising the hurdles each time he came around the track. But his worries evaporated the moment he was in the cubicle and saw that Marvin Kolodny was a completely average young man of twenty-four. His averageness was even a bit unsteady, as though he had to think about it, but then most twenty-four-year-olds are self-conscious in just that way. . . . On December 12, 1968, I gave a talk to a meeting of doctors and lawyers in San Jose, California. * Naturally, I was asked to speak on some subject that would interest both groups. Some instinct told me that medical malpractice suits might interest both but would nevertheless not be a useful topic. I spoke on genetic engineering instead, therefore, and, toward the end, discussed the matter of cloning. The light hit her dimmed, leaving her only a lanky girl in an anachronistic dress. "You've got to name it after me," he said as they hurried back to the garden. "That's my right, isn't it, as the discoverer?" We can therefore imagine that at birth, every human individual will have scrapings taken from his little toe, thus attaining a few hundred living cells that can be at once frozen for possible eventual use. (This is done at birth, because the younger the cell, the more efficiently it is likely to clone.) P.M. He sees the Presidential motorcade making the turn onto Elm Street.
