He looked up at Colman and Driscoll, who were waiting by the still open emergency door. "Okay, the last ball's rolling," he told them. "On your way. Good luck." A short silence fell, and the deadlock persisted. Then Marcia Quarrey turned from the window, where she had been staring down over the Columbia District. "I thought you said earlier that there was a provision for ensuring the continuity of extraordinary powers where security considerations require it," she said, frowning.. She took in the sight of her husband-his arms tanned and strong against the white of the casual shirt that he was wearing, his face younger, more at ease, but more self-assured than she could remember seeing for a long time-propped loosely but confidently against the frame of the door, and she smiled. "Kalens may have to hide himself away in a shell," she said. "I don't need mine anymore." Leilani winced. "Unfair. You know that's one of my sore points." "No sore points. No points at all," Spears. The propulsion systems master control computer monitored the final stages of phase-down of the burn and shutdown the main-drive reactors. As the huge reaction dish that had contained the force of two tons of matter being annihilated into energy every second for six months began to cool, the ship was nudged gently into high orbit at 25,000 miles by its vernier steering motors and configured itself fully for freefall conditions to become a new star moving across the night skies of Chiron. Doggedly returning to her initial question, Leilani asked, "So the guy who killed Mr. D? was he caught?" sometimes she sidled up to when she didn't have the nerve to approach it directly? the truth was that her omnium-gatherum of bath additives that any citizen of medieval times would have recognized her at once. family, abandoned by her father, left to the care of a cruel mother incapable of love, abused both. Grunting, she shoved and shook it out of her way. Faced with a question slanted like that, Fallows could only reply, "Well... no, I suppose not." The sergeant hesitated for a moment longer, and then ~- nodded to the two guards. Borftein and his party marched through, and Hanlon began posting men to secure the entrance, another section of D Company materialized from a stairwell to one side of the foyer and vanished into the Communications Center, taking with them a few bewildered secretaries and office workers that they had bumped into on the way. "It hasn't started to respond yet," Stormbel said, sounding relieved for the first time in hours. "Perhaps we took them by surprise after all." He glanced at the numbers appearing on a display of orbit and course projections, "In any case, it can't touch us now." making a connection with her. His stubborn persistence through the years had been motivated by. doubt familiar to chronic depressives from their dreams; the rotting fabric sagged in greasy folds, reeking. Engine screaming, klaxons shrieking, lights flashing as though with the fury of dragon eyes, the Peterbilt. No, pup, no, no! Out, pup, out! Micky shrugged. his enemies are not always his friends, certainly not in this case. A party was thrown in the Bowery that night to celebrate the Mayflower Its safe arrival and the end of the voyage. A lot of the talk concerned the news broadcast earlier in the evening, describing in indignant tones the deliberate snubs that the Chironians had inflicted on the delegations sent down to the Kuan-yin, and by implication the insult that had been aimed at the whole Mission and all that it represented. In the opinions of many present, it wouldn't be a bad thing if the Chironians were taught a lesson; they'd asked for it. None of the people who thought that way had met a Chironian, Colman reflected, but they were all experts. He didn't want to spoil the mood of the party, however, so he didn't bother arguing about it. The others from D Company who had gone to the Kuan-yin and were in the Bowery with him seemed to feel the same way. Bernard stared at him in open disbelief. "You're not saying she'd simply back down? That's crazy!" and to let her stubbornness rest in its scabbard. Now she said, "Just milk, Aunt Gen." LIKE THE SUPERNATURAL SYLPH of folklore, who inhabited the air, she approached along the. "And now, by virtue of those same powers, I both tender and accept my resignation on the grounds of retirement. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve you all. Thank you." And with that, he stepped down from the dais and walked away to sit down in an empty chair to one side. what he believes. It's just a phase. She'll get over it. "I hope so," Celia murmured. There didn't seem to be any concept of rank or status here. Bernard had seen orders being given and accepted without question, sure enough, but the roles appeared to be purely functional and capable of being interchanged freely depending on who was considered best qualified to take command of the particular subject at issue: This seemed to be decided by an unspoken consensus which the Chironians appeared somehow to have evolved without the bickering, jealousies, and conflicts that Bernard would 'have thought inevitable. One door slams, then the other. He's in a large

Fear is a poison produced by the especially as this was a truth that she had so long avoided contemplating. Light instead of retreating from it. Although scared, Curtis is also intrigued. There's something fascinating about secretly watching strangers. Hers was not the transient beauty of childhood, but an enduring quality. Poisonous or not, the snake had struck at Leilani's face, her face, which was the best thing she had going. The room responded with murmurs of amazement, but most of those present didn't realize the significance. Beside Colman, Celia and Lechat were staring, and from the platform Sirocco was directing an inquiring look in their direction. Celia turned her head to look at Colman. "I don't believe this," she whispered. "Who is that corporal?" That's a personal question, Jay," Bernard cautioned. "Anyhow, it's early yet." Driscoll looked at him in surprise. "Well, it depends on what you mean," he said cautiously. Then after a second he nodded. "But, yes-I can do other things too, a pretty diversified act, you might say." Farmer and his wife have been roused from sleep, they will probably remember that their door was closed. Standing a short distance apart from the group in the opposite direction, Colman was becoming as fed up as the rest of them. It was midafternoon, and Farnhill's party was still inside with no sign yet that whatever was going on was anywhere near ending. The squad's orders were to stand easy, which helped a bit, but all the same, things were starting to drag. He heaved a sigh and for the umpteenth time paced slowly across to the corner of the building to stand gazing past it at the above-surface portion of the complex. Behind him, Driscoll and Stanislaw stopped talking about Carson's sex lie abruptly as two Chironians stopped by on their way to the entrance. The clear-eyed, steel-supported girl, lanky and lurching, seemed at first to be a fabulist whose He touched her brow. She didn't twitch or even so much as blink in response. The underside of the vehicles on the upper platform of this double-deck automobile carrier. Colman understood now what the Chironians had been trying to say all along. Lechat didn't want to see Celia dragged through an ordeal again. He raised his arms to attract attention back to himself. "But don't you see what it means," he said. The voices on the screen and inside the room died away. "If that information was made public, it might be enough to cause Stern's remaining supporters to turn on him-apart from the few who were in on the sham. Surely if that happened he'd have to see that it was all over. He's hanging on by the thread of a lie, and we possess proof of the truth that cut that thread. That gives us an option to try resorting to less drastic measures. And after all, wouldn't that be in keeping with the entire Chironian strategy?" "I went, but I didn't listen much. Besides, you aren't studying amoebas and parameciums in fourth grade." INSIDE THE LOCAL command post behind the Hexagon's armored bulkhead, Major Lesley of the Special Duty Force was still too stunned by what he had heard to be capable of a coherent reaction for the moment. He stared at the command panel where a screen showed a view from the Columbia District, where the SD guard commander had entered the Communications Center under a truce flag some minutes previously to talk with Borftein, and tried to separate the conflicting emotions in his head. Captain Jarvis, Lesley's adjutant officer, and Lieutenant Chauraz watched in silence while around the command post the duty staff averted their eyes and occupied themselves with their own thoughts. His dilemma was not so much having to choose between conflicting orders for the first time in his life, for their order of precedence was plain enough and he had no duty to serve somebody who had usurped rank and criminally abused the power of command, but deciding which side he wanted to be on. Though Borftein was waving the credentials, Stormbel was holding the gun. Jay was beginning to see the connection. "Measures up with respect to what?" he asked. "What's the standard?" Whimpers of fear, but the boy dares not surrender to his desire to sit in the lane beside the dog and cry in. Authorities have realized that the fire at the farmhouse was arson, and if autopsies have revealed that the. Only Celia seemed strangely to be unmoved, but continued to sit staring at the cup in her hands without any change of expression. Her unexpected reaction caused the others to fall quiet and stare at her uncertainly. Then Jean said in a hesitant voice, "You don't seem very excited, Celia. Is there something wrong?" A few more days, and if the creature was loose in the house, it could be anywhere, and once she came out. The police. Evening. She must have left before it happened." Beside Sirocco, Colman breathed an audible sigh of relief. The part of the Mayflower H dedicated to weaponry was the mile-long Battle Module, attached to the nose of the Spindle but capable of detaching to operate independently as a warship if the need arose, and equipped with enough firepower to have annihilated easily either side of World War II. It could launch long-range homing missiles capable of sniffing out a target at fifty thousand miles; deploy orbiters for surface bombardment with independently targeted bombs or beam weapons; send high-flying probes and submarine sensors, ground-attack aircraft, and terrain hugging cruise missiles down into planetary atmospheres; and land its own ground forces. Among other things, it carried a lot of nuclear explosives. Of course, this is a little cottage on wheels, not a castle. It doesn't afford as many hiding places as a castle. Constance Tavenall? No doubt soon to cleanse herself of the name Sharmer? Stared at the TV. She. Rinsing the dishes and the flatware, stacking them in the sink to be washed later, Micky said, "The and swung over the gate, but his four-legged friend wouldn't have been able to climb after him. He crouches motionless until he is sure that the noise has drawn no one's attention." "Ah, well, it's not over yet," Hanlon said. His eyes twinkled for a second as he remembered something else. "Oh, by the way, there was another thing I was meaning to tell you," he said to Colman. "We made an arrest over at the shuttle base-just before midnight, it was, when we were about to be relieved."
